Elba courthouse is packed with interested citizens and members of the news media as they wait for hearing to begin.

Chief Johnston Remains Suspended

Over 100 local citizens showed up Tuesday night for the Elba City Council meeting that lasted about 15 minutes. The only motion made and/or passed during the meeting was a motion to adjourn.

The only item on the agenda was to discuss the status of the suspension of Police Chief M. W. Johnston.

Mayor Folsom opened the meeting and asked City Attorney Gareth Lindsey to explain the duties of the Mayor, and then the duties of the City Council. Folsom then recognized Johnston who denied he was guilty of insubordination to the mayor. Folsom noted that all the councilmen were aware of the circumstances in the matter, and asked if anyone else had anything to say. When he got no response, Folsom asked for a motion to either sustain the mayor's actions or a motion to get Johnston back to work.

Neither motion was made, and Folsom said, "Well, I guess we can discuss it some more." At this time, Councilman D. M. English made a motion to adjourn and received a second from Councilman Wayland Sharpless. It passed and the meeting was over. Folsom immediately left the courtroom where the meeting was being held.

Political Campaign

With the state and local political scene entering the home stretch, more politicking is evident throughout all areas of the state and Elba is no exception.

Cyril Maddox and Connie Carpenter, both local girls, left their mark on Elba earlier this week, campaigning for Bert Bank who is running for Lt. Governor.

Bank, State Senator from Tuscaloosa, is leading statewide in this 12 person race according to the latest poll conducted by AEA.

Credit is campaign chairman for the southeast Alabama district which includes Lee, Russell, Barbour, Henry, Houston, Dale, and Geneva counties.

Bank's legislation has included sponsoring numerous patriotism and health care bills, one which makes it illegal to deface the Alabama or American flag.

"This special interest with patriotism stems from the fact that he spent 33 months in a Japanese prison camp during World War II. The Senator has first hand experience in giving a portion of his life for this country," Maddox continued.

Connie joined the campaign trail this week and will return to school at Auburn University in early September. She is a sophomore majoring in pre-pharmacy.

Among the campaign literature which Connie and Cyril are distributing is a book entitled "Back from the Living Dead" which Bank wrote

The spectators in the room couldn't hear most of the discussion in the meeting and were lost when it adjourned. They remained in their seats and asked what was going on. The members of the council remained in the room and attempted to explain the situation, as did Attorney Lindsey.

According to the members of the council present, the situation is the same as it was before, with the suspension without pay continuing, and the council retaining the right to fire or put back to work at any time.

The council members presented a hand-written letter to City Clerk Jack Prescott requesting a special meeting next Tuesday night to conduct the regular business of the city that would normally have been done at the past Tuesday night meeting. This meeting will be at 7 p.m.

County Commissioners Told Voting Houses Will Be Ready For Sept. 5 Election

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, August 14, at the courthouse in Elba and heard a report that all voting houses in the county were being repaired in preparation for the September 5 primary.

Commissioner Clark Bruneau Winston reported that the county carpenter had checked all the voting houses and found all were in good condition except the one at Matthew's Store (Beat 22).

The commission agreed to have the leaks in the roof fixed before the election. Commissioner Rex Boutwell stated the voting house at Danley's Cross Roads (Beat 2) was in bad shape. Boutwell reported the windows were broken out and the roof leaked at the building. The commission instructed Boutwell to have the needed repairs done immediately.

The meeting began at 10:00 a.m. with all the commissioners present. Present were Rex Boutwell, Gilmer Grant, Jack Hornsby, Don Smith, Bennie Beckham, Max J. Reeves and Probate Judge James L. Sawyer.

The meeting's first visitor was Capt. Kenneth Blackmon of the Enterprise National Guard. Capt. Blackmon told the commission he needed help in road grading work at the new armory on Highway 167. The work would consist of furnishing for drainage and ballast work. Judge Sawyer reported the work could be done "legally," and the commission decided to find out the time needed to do the job before making a commitment.

Danny Stewart, of Enterprise, came to the commission meeting with an unusual request. Stewart reported he had purchased land near Enterprise and had no way to get to it except along a fence road. The landowner offered to sell the road, but Stewart felt the price was too high and asked the commission if it could make him road or get him a better price by condemning the road. The commission told Stewart to meet with Enterprise city officials and to check with his lawyer.

County Engineer Leslie Mullins addressed the commission on several matters. Mullins reported that the commission had agreed to look for a new building to house the program and agreed to look into moving the program into the farm center.

In other action at Monday's meeting, the commission:

requested authorization for foremen to carry guns on the job to kill snakes (request was approved);

reported if the CETA Program were discontinued he would like to retain at least 5 employees;

stated the wages deducted for worker's compensation were way too high (agreed to meet with representative of insurance company);

and, complained about the high cost of liability insurance on county vehicles.

County Health Officer Kenneth Ball told the commission the fire marshal had declared the building housing the W.L.C. Program unsafe, and reported the landlord had refused to repair the violations. The commission agreed to look for a new building to house the program and agreed to look into moving the program into the farm center.

was informed traffic flashers would be installed at Zion Chapel near Oct. 1;

The next commission meeting will be at 10:00 a.m. on Monday, Aug. 26, in Elba.

BRAINSTORMS

WITH FERRIN COX

A candidate for the U. S. Senate, John Baker, was in town early Wednesday morning. Baker is running for the full-six-year term in the John Sparkman retirement. The other two major candidates for that office - Heflin and Flowers - are apparently not making the small town campaign trail as Baker is doing. Baker also says he will be flooding the tube during the last three weeks in his efforts to make the run-off.

Dan Wiley, of Mobile, is in a hassle with a North Alabama newspaper because they refused to accept a political ad with several quotes taken from a Washington newspaper. The quotes were credited to Mrs. Jim Allen and contained some profanity and other embarrassing collections of words. According to the disputed ad, the Washington newspaper reporter is quoted as concluding "Anyone who expects her to follow in the footsteps of her husband is a fool." That is a pretty strong statement and may or may not be true, but if just a few of the people voting for her out of respect of her late husband change because of it, the race could take on a different look altogether.

A number of folks have asked me about the fishing results recently. Well, I have no report because I haven't been fishing in so long, it would probably take a guide to show me where to put my boat in the water!

The half-hearted effort of Dothan businessman Charles Woods to win the governor's race has come to an end with his announced withdrawal this week. His withdrawal will have little impact because his campaign had generated very little support. However, he did miss a chance to plug his son, Richard Woods, of Birmingham, who is running for another state office with the ultimate hope of seeking the Governor's office.

Elba is a week away from beginning a football season and the colleges are two weeks away. This means different things to different folks, but to most of us it means our Friday nights and Saturday afternoons are busy for the next three months, and we don't want anything else to interfere.

When Your Child Begins School

By: Elba Elementary School Faculty

Today we try to teach the whole child. That means we provide activities that develop the mind, body and spirit. We know that until people feel good about themselves, they cannot feel good about others and cannot learn and develop to their potential. Early childhood teachers believe one of their main tasks is to help each child feel good about who he is.

We now know that a child has to become involved to learn. He has to see and feel, taste and smell. Becoming involved almost always means getting messy or dirty, wet or rumpled. Becoming involved often means noise and much activity. A clean, quiet child may not be a learning child.

In addition to food, shelter, and clothing, people need fun, success and love. So, laugh with your child every day, tell him that you love him every day.

Some tips for a happy elementary school include:

As far as thousands of people are concerned, he's still single.

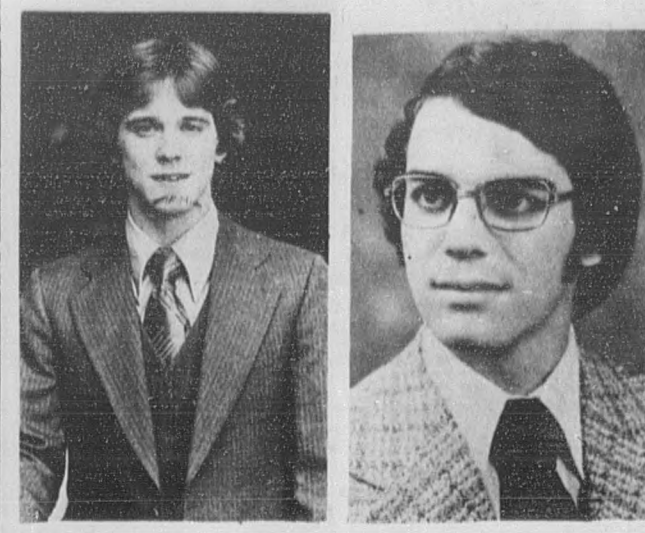

That's because he's still listed as just "Michael W. Leon" in the telephone directory. There's no mention of his wife Joan. Nor their three teenagers. After all, don't they deserve their own listings?

Well now you can let everybody know about the great things happening in your life with the new edition of your telephone directory. It's going to press soon. So if you're about to make any changes or add a dual name listing, now's the time to do it.

Just call our business office and find out what the charges are, if any.

ELBA UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

One of the more dramatic passages of the Old Testament is found in the 4th chapter of Isaiah. Isaiah dates this as the year that King Uzziah died (742 B.C.). Uzziah had been one of the best kings Judah had, and all the land felt a sense of personal loss and an apprehension at what the future might hold. It has been suggested that Isaiah himself was very close to Uzziah, perhaps even a relative.

In the midst of this personal and national calamity, Isaiah made his way to the temple to worship God. At the temple he received a vision of the glory of God. (Perhaps this was a sort of trance in which supernatural things were revealed to his inner eye.) People tell me that they can feel the presence of God anywhere; they need not come to church. Of course this is possible, but do you? When we need the presence and power of God, it is logical to go to His house.

Girls who are planning to go out for majorette next spring need to begin work in September.

Enroll your child in these classes and let her in on the fun.

Mrs. Lindsey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jace Carr of Troy.

(For more information, see Classified Ad in next week's Clipper.)

During the summer, Mrs. Lindsey attended a clinic in Florida to learn new baton-twirling techniques. In past summers, she has attended clinics in Florida, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, and has won many awards for her twirling ability. All her Elba students have excelled highly in different phases of baton twirling.

This fall Mrs. Lindsey's twirling classes for the fall students will march in all Elba parades and possibly in Dathan at the Peanut Festival. Those who wish to, may learn routines to compete in contests throughout Alabama. This year plans are being made for a Christmas recital and an end-of-the-year recital.

If you are interested in your child's participating in all these events, enroll her at the August 30 enrollment.

CARD OF THANKS

Thank You

Perhaps you sang a lovely song

Or sat quietly in a chair;

Perhaps you sent beautiful flowers,

If so, we saw them there.

Perhaps you sent or spoke kind words

As any friends could say;

Perhaps you stayed at home,

Just thought of us that day.

Perhaps you prepared some tasty food,

Or maybe furnished a car;

Perhaps you rendered a service unseen,

Near at hand or from afar,

Whatever you did to console the heart,

We thank you so much—whatever the part.

State 4-H Congress

Coffee County 4-H Club members Robert Chambliss and Anita Mobley were top competitors in State-wide 4-H competition. Each of these young people placed second in a field of twelve top competitors at the State 4-H Congress held last July 16-20.

The State 4-H Congress is an annual meeting of fun and competition for the finest 4-H members from all over Alabama. The 4-Hers compete in one of 31 demonstrations, exhibits or driving events. They also enjoy planned recreation and lots of free time on campus.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chambliss, Jr. of Samson, won second place and a beautiful plaque for his woodworking demonstration. He qualified to go by taking first place at district competition.

During his presentation, he actually made several shingles using antique tools.

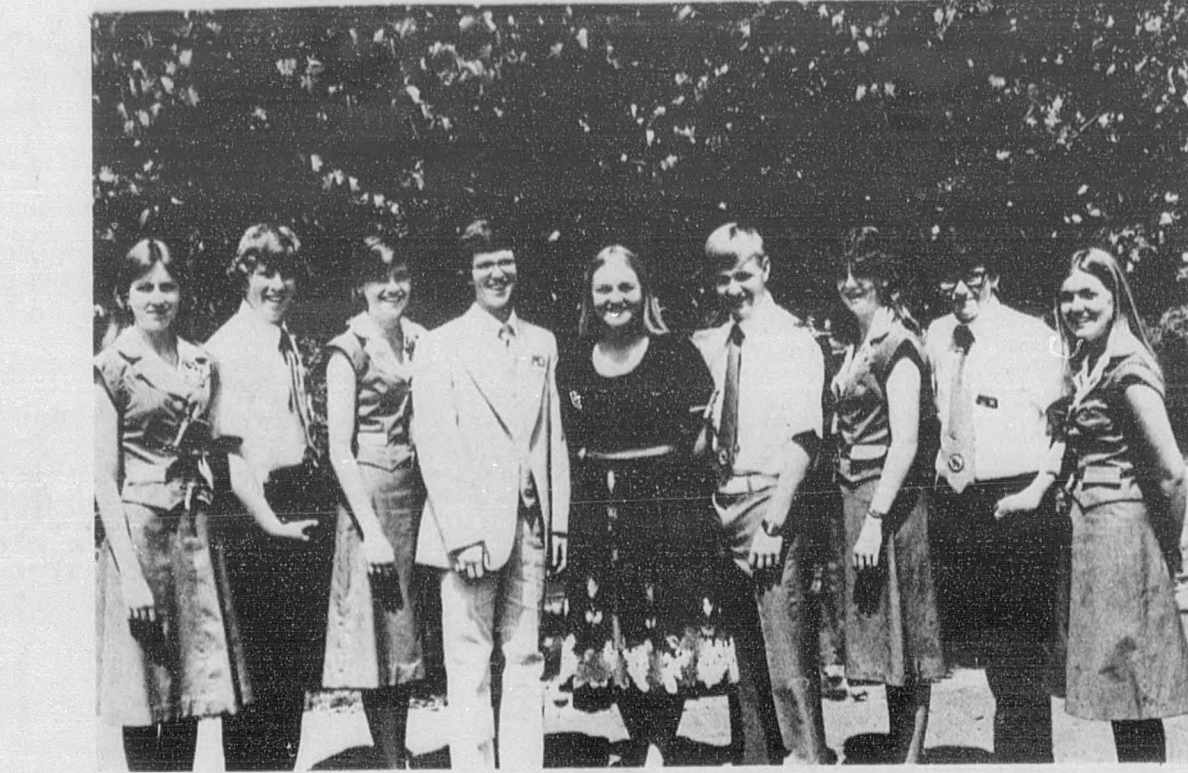

Anita, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mobley of Elba, won second place in the Dairy Food exhibit. She made an attractive and informative exhibit showing the value of milk in the diet. Like Robert, she had already taken first place at district competition.

These young people were competing with more than just eleven other good 4-Hers. They were competing with 4-Hers who had already won at district eliminations held all over the state. They beat other young folks who were already winners.

Several other young people from Coffee County qualified at the district competition and went to the State 4-H Congress with them. Stephanie Johns of Elba, Steve Nagy of Enterprise, Deborah Farris of Kinston, and Melanie Sanders and Larry McWaters of Zion Chapel also did well in competition.

Mary Coale and Ronda Weeks of Kinston also went to the Congress as "Caldwell" delegates. They were chosen as outstanding club members from Coffee County to participate in two days of leadership and career meetings.

The Coffee County 4-H leaders are proud of all the fine young people from Coffee County who went to the event.

State 4-H Congress Coffee County was well represented at the State 4-H Congress with this happy group of young folks

Nagy of Enterprise, Deborah Farris and Maury Coale of Kinston, Melanie Sanders and Larry McWaters of Zion Chapel, and Ronda Weeks of Kinston.

State 4-H Congress Coffee County 4-H Club Leader Sandy Coffey and winning 4-Hers are taking it easy after three days of competition at the State 4-H Congress. From left to right are Woodworking winner Robert Chambliss, Dairy Food winner Anita Mobley, and 4-H councilman Steve Nagy.

More things are sold through the Yellow Pages than any other buying guide.

If you think the Yellow Pages is just a listing, think again.

It contains all sorts of information that can be extremely helpful no matter what you're shopping for.

Like, does the place take credit cards?

What are their hours? Etc. Etc. Etc. Maybe that's why more people read the Yellow Pages last year than just about any book published.

Curl up with it the next time you're shopping for something.

WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT

A good way to utilize idle land is by planting food and cover for wildlife. Bicolor lespedeza is a widely used quail food, but other species of wildlife also like it. It produces a triangular shaped seed that is prime quail food. Bicolor plants grow best on clay soils or heavy loam soils, but there has been good survival on loamy sand type soils with a clay subsoil close to the surface. These plants don't do very well on thin sandy soils or wet, poorly drained soils.

The Coffee County Soil and Water Conservation District ordered 28,000 bicolor seedlings last year and plans have been made to order 30,000 for this year. The best time to plant bicolor lespedeza is from December to March.

Some plantings done this past winter were James Murphy and Jimmy Henderson of Enterprise, Curtis Martin, County Line Community, Jimmy Baker in the Clantonville Community and Rob English in Danacuse.

Recent accomplishment are Villita Bailey, Roy Barlow, Leon Bailey, John B. Wise, James Hudson, and James Wise. If you need assistance with conservation measures on your farm, contact your local soil Conservation Service Office in the Coffee County Farm Center, 894-6332.

ALL AROUND COFFEE COUNTY

COUNTY FARM AGENT

TOM CASADAY

PEANUT PROSPECTS

Dallas Hartzog, peanut specialist at Headland, is high on our peanut prospects. But as Coffee County bankers remind me all the time, you cannot count it until you get it in the bank. However, the prospect for a good peanut crop does look good. Rainfall in the next three weeks will largely determine how many peanuts we make.

Quite a few folks will get in leafspot trouble as showers continue. More people will have to go to aerial applications.

Let's don't overlook soybeans. In most areas they look extremely good. It takes quite a bit of rain in September to insure a good crop of beans. But taking all three crops into account, corn, peanuts and soybeans, this could turn out to be a record year for planted acres yield of row crops.

BEEF CATTLE

Arthur Mann, Assistant County Agent, needs help in promoting the 4-H and FFA Beef Calf Show. Boys and girls need to get steers on feed in August, September or October. They will be participating in the County Show and District Show in March. Some of the young people who have calves on feed now are Lynn Watson from New Brockton and Lynn Cotton from New Hope.

If you are growing beef cattle, why don't you help promote a first class show with plenty of participation? We cannot do it alone. Get in with Arthur Mann, Dan Presley or me if we can help you.

COLLEGE DAYS FOR RETIRED PERSONS

Have you ever heard of college for retired persons? Sara Hutchinson, Home Agent, and Mary Bauer, Director of Community Services at the Enterprise State Junior College, have planned a superb program for retired people. I have a copy of the program and it is the finest thing for retired persons I have ever seen. There are so many interesting topics to be covered at this two-day event.

The program will begin Tuesday, August 29, at 9:00 a.m. with registration and coffee in the Student Center lobby at the Enterprise State Junior College. The general session will begin at 10:00 a.m. If you have questions on this, call Mrs. Bauer at 347-5431 or Mrs. Hutchinson at 694-5596.

FARM BUREAU QUEEN

Beverly Hargrove of Elba is the new Farm Bureau queen. The first alternate is Dawn Hughes of Enterprise, and second alternate is Lila Lowery of Zion Chapel. What a beautiful trio!

Beverly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hargrove. Dawn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Hughes, and Lila is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lowery.

Other contestants in the contest held Thursday night at Enterprise High School were: Regina Sneli, Becky Wise, Kathy Maddox, Randy Wilson, Connie Parrish, Jennifer DeVaughn, Phyllis Adkins and Cindy Morgan.

FARM ACCIDENTS

Did you know that February, May, September and October are the peak months for farm accidents? Did you know that more accidents occur during the latter part of the week? Reading this material reminded me that harvesting corn has already begun in Coffee County. Peanut harvesting will begin in about three weeks. A lot of big, clumsy tractors will be on the road. Be extremely careful. Some tractors and trailers do not have any signal lights. Also don't forget that school will begin in a few weeks. Buses will be making hundreds of stops in the rural areas.

I know from experience that a person can be aware of safety rules and regulations and still have an accident. Frequently I remind myself to concentrate more on my driving.

need a soil that is light enough to allow excess water to drain. The soil should also have ample organic matter such as leaf mold, humus or peat moss to help retain an even moisture. The plant container should drain well.

Different ferns need different moisture levels. The range is from slightly dry conditions favored by the asparagus fern, to the wet conditions required by maidenhair. Ferns such as the Boston types, require constantly moist, but not wet soils.

Another precaution for ferns -- handle gently. Most ferns are delicate and can't stand rough handling. So, put them in an out-of-the-way spot where they won't be brushed against.

Repot ferns when they outgrow their pots. You can divide them at this time, too. After removing the plant from the pot, use a long-bladed knife to halve or quarter the root ball. Pull each piece apart so you can spread the roots in the new soil. Then repot each part in individual containers. Be sure to water thoroughly and provide a humid atmosphere the first few weeks until the plant gets established.

SANDWICHES

Sandwiches make a perfect lunch on hot summer days. A well-planned lunch can perk up even the most faded appetite.

Tuna, chicken and corned beef all make delicious salads for sandwiches. Meat, hard-cooked eggs, pickles and mayonnaise are all good ingredients in meat and fish salads.

Lettuce and tomatoes have been the traditional vegetables to use in sandwiches, but there are some that you might not have thought of. Try using green pepper rings, cucumber slices or even thinly sliced summer squash in sandwiches for the summer.

Grated carrots, crushed pineapple and cream cheese make a delicious sandwich. Or try asparagus spears and sliced cheese on rye.

Coroner Of Coffee County—Elba Div.

During the past three years and seven months, I have served as coroner of Coffee County and have done so to the best of my ability. The coroner's office, although thought by many to be an insignificant post, can be and is a very important part of our law enforcement arm of government. In my past term, I have learned a great deal more about the office and what it involves. This return has given me a greater insight as to what should and can be done concerning the duties of coroner. I have gained a working knowledge of the office and have established a line of communication with all agencies involved with the performance of the duties of coroner. I can honestly state to you, the people who elected me, that I have done a good job as coroner, and I want to continue to serve you in this post.

Auburn Graduate Goes Abroad For Thesis Work

An Auburn University graduate student will present an aerospace research paper at the 28th Congress of the International Astronautical Federation (IAF), at Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia, in October.

Jesse E. Murph of Elba will present findings from the research work he performed for his master's thesis, under the direction of Air Force Professor Richard H. Storzini. The paper, entitled "Prediction of Ignition Transients in Solid Rocket Motors Using a Non-steady Heat Feedback Law," has been judged the best graduate technical paper to represent the U. S. in the IAF's international competition.

Murph also presented his paper to the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA) Regional Student Conference in Orlando, FL, in April and received a second-place award in the graduate division.

Murph will travel to Yugoslavia with the national AIAA director, two undergraduate students from Stanford and Iowa State and a representative of the Aerospace Medical Association.

Elect BILL WALDON Sheriff of Coffee County

I ask for your vote and support to elect one Sheriff of Coffee County. I promise, when elected, I will bring back the good, sound, basic law enforcement Coffee County needs. I agree law enforcement departments need modern equipment, but the human factor seems to have been forgotten. I believe we need to put people back into our departments, people who will work to protect and care about the needs of our citizens. As your Sheriff, I can and will have this done.

Don't become a heart attack victim because of tension and overwork. This is one area where you can practice a little "preventive medicine" by slowing down and relaxing. This is especially true if you are one of those driving individuals who look like they are on the edge of a heart attack and is hospitalized. Every adult should have a complete medical examination at least once a year.

When your doctor prescribes medications for you, have the prescription filled here. You can be assured of accurate and prompt dispensing.
